On Tuesday (1-10-84) Thomas Provenzano shot up the Orange County Courthouse, killing one man and seriously wounding two others. This shooting got national attention and was published on all the major networks. It upset the city officials and everyone is taking action to prevent a recurrence.

What you may not know is that the following day a black man, Bruce Evans, 25 was shot by the police on a drug raid. Everyone knows that alot of blacks sell pot around the Parramore area. I've seen 15-20 guys selling at one time, to twice that many buying. Ok fine, this state tries to give the appearance of curbing the local drug traffic and the cops take a hard line on any drugs. But seven armed officers, raiding an apartment. And only finding six dime bags of marijuana. Then to shoot an unarmed man at point blank with a shotgun, and to call it a accident is unacceptable.

The police down here are a touch on the fanatic side. I've been pulled over for running a so called red light and ended up having three cop cars spending 45 minutes while deciding what they where going to charge me with. When unarmed people are beaten, parties disrupted by over reaction, are guilty until proven innocent. What it comes down to is we are controlled by a police state but the police are not controlled by the laws that they are hired to enforce. When half of our city officials are dealing in drugs and buying and selling stolen goods and making a killing by being slumlords something is wrong. When it's known that Orlando and Winter Park were built on drug money, then to shoot a man for six dime bags. I hope the blacks burn down city hall. R.V. 84

Butthole Surfers

The Butthole Surfers live at the Peppermint Lounge
My first reaction to this experimental music group from Texas was "they must be on acid". The buttholes came out on stage 12:30 a.m., I thought the Peppermint was a strange place for a band of this caliber to be playing at.
The lead singer came out on stage with closepins in his hair, baggie pants with paper stuffed in them.
Throwing confetti with roaches printed on it. He played the guitar and sax at times among entertaining the crowd with his mole. The lead guitar was good, bass ok and the double drums were the strength of this band. One male and one female with a skinhead
The crowd reacted by throwing beer cans and spitting on them. I didn't like the clown act, but appreciated the music. R.V. said "just another slag band". We didn't get to interview this band, too much red tape.

HARDCORE

AT CBGB

(212)982-4052

It's been a great summer for music, a slow start.
C.B.G.B.'s has been the main spot for shows, it's a reasonable place to see shows. Sometimes the crowd can get out of hand.
I've heard that they got rid of the trouble makers.
The Rock Hotel had a few shows with the Effigies,
Jerry's Kids, Stranglehold, Warzone, Kraut, etc..
The fire department closed the club. They had plans to reopen but haven't opened yet.
At C.B.G.B.'s alot of touring bands and locals have played like, Sonic Youth, Soviet Sex, Virus, S.D.P., Ugly Dog, Q of A Mesh, Modern Clix, H.R., Sex in Miami,
American Waste, Reagan Youth, B.G.K., Cause for Alarm, Blood Clot, Government Issue, The Cromags, Red Scare,
Damage, Direct Action, Hit by a truck, Ultraviolence,
Agnostic Front, Agression, Murphy's Law, Pleased Youth, Kraut, Gilligan's Revenge, U.S. Chaos, War Zone, The Vandals, Tales of Terror, J.F.A., No Thanks and more.
The hardcore shows at C.B.G.B.'s are great if the crowd isn't fighting. R.V. even got jumped at one show by the skinheads. You do need a army of your friends if you see a show. It's really not that bad. I heard that Boston's scene is worse.

This band is based around
the lead singer Donna Damage.
Donna is originally from N.J., but she has spent most of her life in N.Y., that is where she is presently living now.

The band consists of guitar, bass and drums. They backed Donna with their beats. Sometimes sounding reggae and satanical at times,
Donna shouted her hardcore lyrics,
about her everyday experiences.

Cause for Alarm live at C.B.G.B.'s
We saw them right before they went on tour. They had a new singer, Chris x-roadie from M.D.C.. Good hardcore band, tight. This is another one of the hometowns favorites.
The crowd went wild, but no fights.

Cromags

Young hardcore band. Vocalist got so carried away he did stage dives while he was singing. The crowd really got into this band.

JODY FOSTER'S ARMY

JFA Summer '84 TOUR

J.F.A. live at C.B.G.B.'s
This young hardcore/skate band is alot of fun to watch live. They have made a few changes, but the new members are able to maintain. Don the guitar player is from Huntington Beach Ca. I think he is the surfer music influence. I liked the vocalist he's really good. The bass and drums synchronized.

Tony Victor

At the age 23, he owns Placebo Records.

there is alot of

vinyl out on Placebo.

He is a independent promoter.

Tony puts on shows in Phenix Az.

He also writes for magazines.

He loves rock n' roll.

he's glad to be an american.

I guess you can tell that from the shirt he had on in the photograph.

Agnostic Front

Agnostic Front live at C.B.G.B.'s

They were supposed to play at the Quando center. But the promoter wouldn't let them play on account they thought there would be a riot. We did get to see them at C.B.G.B.'s.
This hardcore band is tight musically, good vocals. This is one of the hometowns favorites.
The thrash was good, no fights. Give them what they want.

In Miami Beach, there lives a girl by the name of Denise. She is into hardcore music. She has purple hair. She holds a steady job. She writes for Max. Rn'R. She books bands in the south. She skateboards around the parking lot during lunch break at work? Believe it or not! Get in touch with this girl. The south loves hardcore! Denise 9801 S.W. 87th. Street Miami, Fl. 33173.

I don't want to go back to work mabe I'll skate to Flynn's

Generic Death and D.A.M. These two bands are from Miami Florida. These bands share drummers I think or something like that. Two young skate/punk bands with plenty of potential. All these guys need is dues and distance.

Charlie Picket and the Eggs They played at C.B.G.B.'s, reppermint Lounge, Danceteria. News Shorts said they had a definite country and blues with a early rock n' roll influence.

BEYOND THERAPY

Beyond Therapy at Flynn's in Miami. This Gainesville band is more comfortable with the home crowd. This band has plenty of potential and musically appears to be tight. Minor Threat is a definite influence to this band. Vocally they leave something to be desired. This central Florida band could only be helped by traveling outside of the state.

TOXIC REASONS

Toxic Reasons in Miami at Flynn's. More power than hardcore, musically this band is tight as hell and sounds great. But for every positive there is a negative. Both singers are unable to project while playing, they were flat and off key. Excellent guitars, bass and good drummer.

Flynns in Miami

They have had a bit of traffic come through this summer. The roster read like this, Black Flag, T.S.O.L., Agent Orange, J.F.A., Sun City Girls, Battalion of Saints, F.U., Stranglehold, Scream, Marginal Men, No Trend, Vatican Commandos, Minutemen, Red Scare, D.R.I., U.K. Subs, The Exploited, etc.

So far all the bands have been working together and there is a small scene in Florida.

I heard recently that D.R.I. has split up. (drums) a little worn and up tight has left the band for another dream. I don't care about rumors if a band can't stay tight, let them break up. What I do care about is good hardcore music and D.R.I. has, or had one of the best chances at equalizing their guardian angels M.D.C.. I found D.R.I. to be the most interesting, straight forward. They have my vote for the best band of 1984. Wild drums, power guitar and everything fast as shit. D.R.I. is presently the heart of hardcore underground music. You want special lyrics, you got it. You want speed, you got it. You want power, you got Spike. My vote for the best guitar of 1984. Better than M.D.C. or Suicidal Tendencies or Husker Dew.

They weren't perfect, just D.R.I.
R.V. 84.

Pagan Faith at The Warehouse Gallery

Tampa based, this is one of the best (if not the best) hardcore bands in central Florida. Lyrics are convincing, power guitar and driving drums. This group is ready for the road. This was the last concert at Orlando's Warehouse Gallery and it was well worth the shit the cops gave everyone.

DAMAGE

Damage played and keyboards forever (2). More speed and they are tight. I hate red-necks is terribly strong. They have recently picked up a new lead singer, Tyler Stans.

Damage is due for a record release soon. The Informant will let you know when it's out.

Florida

Bully Boys

They have no place to practice, so the Bully Boys have taken a temporary break. Todd the lead singer is joining the Marine's. Wallace, guitar is moving to California in the fall. Good luck guys.

The Orlando scene

Not much has changed in Orlando, still the same old thing. Spit continues to play their out dated music. Bands can't keep together because theres no place to practice. The cops still harass the punks, along with the rednecks. There have been a few hardcore shows, and I've heard that the shows were a success. Battalion of Saints, J.F.A., etc. came to Orlando. A few other bands were supposed to be coming to Orlando but no word as of yet.
